

The Compass Project Impact Report

This infographic summarizes the 9-month progress of the Compass Project, serving 8 adolescent females (ages 12-14).

Behavioral Regulation

Showed 15% improvement in managing behavior and taking responsibility for actions.

Trauma Recovery

A 17% gain was achieved in recovering from traumatic experiences.

Family Connection

Increased family connection and attachment by 16%.

Treatment Engagement

Treatment engagement improved by 17%.

Emotional Regulation

Showed 16% improvement in managing their emotions effectively.

Social Functioning

Increased social and interpersonal functioning by 12%.

Self-Advocacy

Gained 14% in self-advocacy and empowerment skills.

Future Orientation

Increased hope and future orientation by 18%.

Identity Development

Improved identity and self-concept development by 15%.

Resilience Skills

Resilience and coping skills improved by 13%.

Risk Reduction

Showed 10% improvement in risk reduction and safety awareness.

Environmental Adaptation

Environmental adaptation improved by 9%.

Overall Progress

The Compass Project shows positive gains across all areas, averaging 14.3% improvement.